

Affordable ABA

A Behavior Analytic Perspective and Techniques on Interdisciplinary Collaboration

1. Which source is not considered as an option when seeking an informant report?

- A. teacher
 - B. caregivers
 - C. occupational therapist
 - D. individual receiving services
-

2. Improvements have been significantly more beneficial through guidance of an _____ team than that of a _____ team.

- A. interdisciplinary; multidisciplinary
 - B. transdisciplinary; interdisciplinary
 - C. cross-disciplinary; multidisciplinary
 - D. interdisciplinary; cross-disciplinary
-

3. Which response is not considered a primary principle that is embedded within ethics codes?

- A. respect for one's autonomy
 - B. cross-disciplinary treatment
 - C. nonmaleficence
 - D. beneficence
-

4. Which collaborative approach describes when one discipline takes on the viewpoint that another discipline or profession exudes?

- A. Cross-disciplinary approach
 - B. Interdisciplinary approach
 - C. Multidisciplinary approach
 - D. Transdisciplinary approach
-

5. What is something a behavior analyst should avoid when communicating with other individuals from other disciplines?

- A. Discussing short-comings of the behavior analyst
 - B. Discussing potential client outcomes
 - C. Using jargon
 - D. Pointing out ethical obligations of each discipline
-

6. What is known as the systematic process in which one individual works directly with another individual in an effort to achieve a mutual goal?

- A. Group collaboration
 - B. Collaboration
 - C. Team work
 - D. Single-disciplinary collaboration
-

7. Which ethics code discusses how behavior analysts should collaborate with colleagues?

- A. 2.09
 - B. 2.12
 - C. 2.10
 - D. 2.07
-

8. Which is not considered a skill required for effective collaboration?

- A. Resolving conflict as it occurs
 - B. Working through problems and seeking a solution
 - C. Setting goals
 - D. Ability to demonstrate a closed-minded approach when discussing concerns
-

9. Which type of strategies are able to be implemented prior to the conflict arising within the interdisciplinary setting?

- A. Proactive strategies
 - B. Functional strategies
 - C. Collaborative strategies
 - D. Reactive strategies
-

10. What is a comorbid disorder?

- A. co-occurrence of two or more disorders within one individual
 - B. the occurrence of the same disorder in two different individuals
 - C. co-occurrence of two or more disorder within at least two individuals
 - D. the occurrence of the one disorder in one individual
-

11. Which response is not considered an overarching goal of an interpreter?

- A. Relay a message between two or more people
 - B. Message clarifier
 - C. Provide recommendations
 - D. Cultural clarifier
-

12. Which response is considered a reactive strategy?

- A. create guidelines and a code of ethics for collaboration
 - B. have frequent and coordinated interactions
 - C. refraining from using jargon
 - D. use values from code of ethics to frame conflict
-

13. What is known as one's obligation to not harm another individual or to take a route that minimizes any harm that may occur to an individual?

- A. Beneficence
 - B. Nonmaleficence
 - C. Justice
 - D. Respect for one's autonomy
-

14. Which collaborative approach describes assessments that are conducted by independent parties and recommendations are made to guide the individual toward their treatment outcomes?

- A. Cross-disciplinary approach
 - B. Interdisciplinary approach
 - C. Multidisciplinary approach
 - D. Transdisciplinary approach
-

15. Which response is considered a proactive strategy?

- A. refraining from using jargon
 - B. develop "T-shaped" practitioners
 - C. provide institutional support
 - D. use values from code of ethics to frame conflict
-

16. Which is not considered a difference in how beneficence be exhibited?

- A. what a professional is trying to target through use of an intervention
 - B. the potential for success regarding the intervention selected
 - C. how the intervention is planning on being implemented
 - D. why the intervention has been selected as it relates to alternative treatments
-

17. Which response is not considered to be an area of the CAPT assessment?

- A. function-based treatment
 - B. skill acquisition
 - C. allocating resources available
 - D. social outcomes
-

18. Which collaborative approach consists of various disciplines working together to conceptualize both the client and concerns from the same viewpoint?

- A. Cross-disciplinary approach
 - B. Interdisciplinary approach
 - C. Multidisciplinary approach
 - D. Transdisciplinary approach
-

19. What can be done when communicating with an interpreter to encourage the acceptance of behavioral techniques?

- A. Minimizing the use of jargon
 - B. Communicating in shorter, simplified sentences
 - C. Speak directly to the client or stakeholder instead of the interpreter
 - D. Clarifying behavioral principles
-

20. Which option is not considered a soft skill that should be taught for effective collaboration?

- A. Analysis of relationships
 - B. Active listening
 - C. Empathy
 - D. Perspective taking
-

Copyright © 2025 Affordable ABA

Visit us at <https://ce.affordableaba.com>